

Review

- Ch. 2 – Our Redeemer is full of _____.
- Ch. 3 – Our Redeemer is perfect in _____.
- Big Idea: Redemption is where righteousness meets love.

Context

- v. 9 – Ruth proposes to Boaz.
- In that cultural context, spread one’s garment over a woman was like slipping a ring on her finger today (Ezekiel 16:8).
- In faith, Ruth is betting everything on _____.
- Similarly, we are called to come to risk everything at the feet of our Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

1.) Saved by the Redeemer’s _____

- v. 10 – Boaz’s love for Ruth is seen in His delight over her.
 - Boaz is overjoyed that Ruth has chosen Him.
 - In the same way, our redeemer delights when we come to Him by faith (Psalm 149:4, Luke 15:10).
- v. 11 – Boaz’s love for Ruth is seen in his free choice to redeem her.
 - Boaz was under no _____ to be her kinsman-redeemer (Deuteronomy 25:5-6).

- Boaz wants to marry Ruth because he loves her deeply.
- So it is with Christ to us. He redeems us, not because He must, but because He loves us (Ephesians 2:4-5, 5:2).
- Boaz's love for Ruth is seen in his _____ and _____.
- Protection – v. 13-14 – Boaz risks his reputation to safeguard Ruth.
- Provision – v. 15 – Boaz sends Ruth to Naomi with an abundance.
- In this way, Boaz once again models the love of God in Christ (2 Thessalonians 3:3, Philippians 4:19).

2.) Saved by the Redeemer's _____

- v. 3:12 – There is another redeemer in the way of Ruth's redemption.
- v. 3:18 – Although Ruth essentially proposed to Boaz, it is Boaz who does all the _____ of redemption.
- v. 4:3-4 – Boaz could not act as Ruth's kinsman-redeemer without dealing with this other redeemer first.
- v. 4:6 – This unnamed redeemer could not handle the obligation of a Moabite widow.
- v. 4:7-11 – The utmost righteousness and legality were of paramount importance to Boaz in redeeming Ruth.
- This unnamed redeemer is an image of the _____.
- The Law, like the unnamed kinsman-redeemer in the text, stands in the way of our redemption.
- The Law is helpless to redeem sinners (Romans 3:20, 7:7).
- Even as Boaz dealt righteously with the nearer redeemer to Ruth, so Christ came to _____ the Law on our account (Matthew 5:17, Romans 8:3-4).

-- _____ is found in Christ alone because it is in
Him alone that perfect love and righteousness meet.
